TRANSYLVANIA

Meadows, mountains and bears

"Magura a stunning location... Crit and Viscri fascinating and attractive"

"Laurie an absolute star... energetic, good humoured and knowledgeable"

Transylvania 2017

Exploration of one of the last remaining areas in Europe where traditional management of hay meadows is still practiced on a large scale and the local wildlife includes iconic species such as Bear, Wolf and Lynx.

We have designed this tour based on our previous trips to the Transylvanian Plateau and Carpathians over many years. It has been adapted to combine the hay meadows, pastures and wood pastures around the 'Saxon' villages of Viscri and Crit with the limestone gorge and valleys of Pietra Crailui National Park and the high altitude alpine meadows of the Bucegi Massif in the Carpathians.

Staying in two centres you will have the chance to explore the natural history in the company of local ecologists who can help you understand history and culture of the local area and its effects on the management of the habitats and see some of the characteristic species of the area. The holiday will include time for botanising and birdwatching, as well as the opportunity to look for other animals including butterflies and other insects, amphibians and reptiles.

A highlight of the trip should be an evening visit to a bear hide where Brown Bears can be seen as they emerge from the forest at dusk (and where Wolves are not usually expected but are also possible, as in our visit in 2013).

The area has a rich cultural heritage including Saxon architecture such as fortified buildings reflecting this Germanic influence. The village of Viscri is one of several to be awarded World Heritage status.

ITINERARY

Please note that the itinerary may be changed to suit the weather or other practicalities or at the discretion of the leaders.

Day 1 Our flights take us to Bucharest, from where we transfer (about three hours) to the Pension Pepino, in the rustic hamlet of Magura, set amongst the majestic Piatra Craiului mountain range surrounded by beautiful valleys full of hay meadows, pastures and woodland.

Day 2 A morning walk takes us along the limestone gorge near the village in search of more of the local specialities including a bird that is usually hard to find but that nests in the area, the colourful Wallcreeper. We should see many more flowers and butterflies as we walk slowly along on an easy track. After an early dinner, tonight we will head to the western edge of the Piatra Craiului National Park, to visit a hide in the forest where we will wait for Brown Bears to emerge from the forest to feed. Wild Boar, Roe Deer and even Wolf have also been seen here on our previous visits - fingers crossed!

Day 3 Visit to the mountain town of Sinaia from where we will travel by cable car to the higher slopes of the Bucegi Mountains, up to 2,000m altitude. Among the species we hope to see amongst the high level alpine meadows will be Primula halleri, Primula minima, Alpine Pasqueflower Pulsatilla alpina and Alpine Snow-bell Soldanella alpina. The Carpathian Alpenrose Rhododendron mytilifolium should be just coming into flower on the slopes around us. Butterflies up at these higher levels should include a variety of fritillaries and blues, with Alpine Accentor and Carpathian Chamois also possible.

Back down at Sinaia, we will visit the grounds of the attractive royal palace, before returning to our accommodation.

Day 4 Today we bid farewell to Magura and head westwards into Transylvania, where we will stay in the village of Crit for four nights. Along the way we will stop to visit the wetlands of Dumbravita where we will spend some time enjoying the birding, with Squacco Heron, Ferruginous Duck, Whiskered Tern and Penduline Tit all likely.

Our home for the next four nights is Casa cu Zorele, set in a traditional Saxon farmhouse in the village of Crit, southeast of Sighisoara.

Day 5 The landscape of Transylvania is rich in meadows, forest and wood pasture, with outcrops of drier steppe-like vegetation. The mosaic of habitats is a result of the history of the local peoples, with centuries of traditional management by the local Saxon population. We will start our exploration of the local area by visiting an area of steppe vegetation near the village of Apold, home to some special plants including the impressive Siberian Bellflower Campanula sibirica, thistle-like Jurinea mollis and Nodding Sage Salvia nutans.

Whinchat from the bushes, while we should keep our eyes peeled for soaring Lesser Spotted Eagles.

In the afternoon, we move to the nearby wood pasture at Breite, where the ancient trees are home to Stag Beetles and longhorn beetles.

Day 6 Transylvania is home to some of the finest ancient wood pastures and veteran trees in Europe, second only to the deer parks of southern Britain. Today we will visit one of the finest of the finest, at Marcheasa. Ancient oaks stand sentinel on the grassy hillside, Great Grey and Red-backed Shrikes hunt from the lower bushes, with grazing Water Buffalo wallowing in pools that are home to Yellow-bellied Toads and the rare Tadpole Shrimp. We will spend the day exploring the area and learning about the history of these important habitats.

Day 7 Today we will travel the short distance east to the well-preserved Saxon village of Viscri, famous for its fortified church, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and also for its links with Prince Charles and the focus of The Prince of Wales Foundation in Romania. White Stork nest in the village, while Black Redstarts sing from the rooftops as we explore the village and learn more about the cultural history of the Saxon region. Nearby we will visit species rich meadows, including another outcrop of steppe vegetation where we will look for Clematis integrifolia, the Burning Bush Dictamnus albus and the tumbleweed-like Tatar Kale Crambe tataria.

Back at Crit, we will have some time to explore the village itself and the flowery hay meadows on the hillside behind the village.

Day 8 After breakfast it will be time to travel southwards once more, making a couple of stops along the way before we finally end up back at Bucharest airport and our flights home.

Accommodation, meals, transport and weather

For the first three nights the group will stay at Pension Pepino in Magura. The last four nights will be in the Pension Casa cu Zorele in Crit. This village has many of the medieval buildings preserved and the accommodation is in restored Transylvanian houses. All rooms have private bathrooms.

Meals during the trip will include Romanian dishes, with an emphasis on local food. Picnics will be taken for lunch. Transport will be by small coach/bus.

It should be pleasant, mostly warm, even hot, although rain and cooler weather are possible. There can be strong sun especially on higher slopes and sun protection is needed.

Leader and Guides

Our leader for this trip is Laurie Jackson. Laurie is an all round naturalist who has led several Wildlife Travel holidays, including Bulgaria, Crete and Lesvos. Laurie has made several visits to Transylvania studying the local wildlife, and led our 2017 holiday here. Local guides will accompany us throughout. For the first three days, our guide will be Calin Hador, who has worked with Wildlife Travel for more than a decade, while our guide in the Viscri area will be local expert Tibor Hartel. Originally from Sighisoara, Tibor has been involved in many conservation projects in the region.

Flights

The group flights will be with British Airways, from London Heathrow. It may also be possible to fly from Manchester and Edinburgh.

4th June Depart London Heathrow 11.40, arrive Bucharest 17.00
11th June Depart Bucharest 17.55, arrive London Heathrow 19.25

Romania is 2 hours ahead of UK time

Passport and visas

If you hold an EU passport, you do not need a visa to travel to Romania. If you do not have an EU passport, please check with your local consulate.

Fitness

None of the itinerary is planned to be strenuous. Most people will have no fitness problems for the planned activities of this holiday but please see the notes in the General Information Leaflet. You will be out for much of the day on most days. Please note that facilities for less able travellers in Romania are not to the same standard as those provided in the UK. Access to the bear hides can involve steps and walking up small (steepish) banks and, therefore, may not be suitable for people with limited mobility.
