SOUTHERN MOROCCO

Easy birding and natural history: coast, desert and mountains

"excellent birding
botany and culture
holiday"
Morocco 2018

A birding exploration of the varied habitats of southern Morocco.

March is a very pleasant time to visit Morocco, with good weather, large numbers of migrating birds heading northwards to Europe and plenty of plants in flower, both on the coast and in the mountains.

We will start our tour on the Atlantic Coast, seeking out local specialties, including Moussier's Redstart, Black-crowned Tchagra and, with luck, the critically endangered Northern Bald Ibis. We will visit the Sous Massa National Park where we will look for several species of antelope that have been reintroduced here, including Addax, Dorcas Gazelle and the graceful Scimitar-horned Oryx.

Heading inland we will pass through the argan forest of the Sous Valley to the arid rocky steppe of the Tagdilt Track, home to larks and wheatears. We will explore rock gorges in search of Pharoah Eagle Owl, Maghreb Wheatear and the endearing Gundi, before reaching the stony desert of the Tafilalet and the sand dunes of Erg Chebbi, home to desert specialties including Desert Sparrows, Egyptian Nightjar, Cream-coloured Courser and various sandgrouse

Heading back westwards, we will travel through the spectacular Anti-Atlas mountains, before finally climbing the High Atlas to the snow line, where we hope to find African Crimson-winged Finches, Seeböhm's Wheatear and Levaillant's Woodpecker.

As well as Morocco's birdlife, we will find reptiles, butterflies, spring flowers and some amazing scenery. This holiday will be our 18th visit to southern Morocco, and our second to explore further into the eastern desert.

FOCUS OF INTEREST

This is one of our 'Easy birding and wildlife' trips which means that the itinerary is based mainly on birds and/or other animals (rather than plants or general wildlife) and this also reflects the knowledge of the leaders and guides. However, as with all of our trips, the pace is comfortable with time to enjoy other aspects of the natural history, rather than rushing from one place to another for specific species.

ITINERARY

Please note that the itinerary may be changed to suit the weather or other practicalities or at the discretion of the leaders.

Day 1 Tue 17th Fly to Agadir and transfer to Atlas Kasbah (c30 minutes). After lunch, we explore the local countryside for our first North African specialities, with Common Bulbul and House Bunting common around the hotel and Moussier's Redstart in the Argan trees.

Day 2 Wed 18th This morning we head to the Atlantic coast, travelling up to Cap Rhir and Oued Tamri, where we hope to see the critically endangered Northern Bald Ibis. This coastline is also well known for its unique communities of succulent Euphorbias, and we will stop to explore this interesting habitat, hoping to find Spectacled Warbler and Black Wheatear along with endemic geckos and interesting plants. o/n Atlas Kasbah

Day 3 Thu 19th We head to the famous Sous Massa National Park to learn about the important conservation work going on here; 're-wilding' of a variety of Saharan antelopes including Dorcas Gazelle, Scimitar-horned Oryx and Addax, and the Red-necked Ostrich, all of which have become extinct across much of their range. We visit the reintroduction area, enjoying close encounters along the way. We spend the afternoon at Oued Massa, hoping to hear the fluting song of Black-crowned Tchagra. o/n Atlas Kasbah

Day 4 Fri 20th We start today with a visit to the river-mouth at Oued Sous, where flamingos gather on the estuary and feed alongside various waders, gulls and terns. From here we strike inland, travelling through the famous argan forests of the Sous valley, towards Oulad Berhil, where we spend the night. o/n L'Aganier d'Or

Day 5 Sat 21st We continue our journey eastwards, travelling through increasingly arid, rocky landscapes as we head towards Ouarzazate. Along the way we will start to see White-crowned and Desert Wheatears and a variety of larks along the roadside, and keep our eyes open for Barbary Falcon, Lanner and Long-legged Buzzard. o/n Dar Amouddou

Day 6 Sun 22nd Our morning will start with a visit to the nearby Ouarzazate Reservoir. Various migrants rest here on their journey northwards, and could include a variety of waders and wildfowl, warblers and wagtails. From here we travel eastwards to Boumalne des Dades where we will explore the Tagdildt Track, an area famous for its desert steppe birds: we hope to find a variety of larks including Thick-billed, Hoopoe, Desert and Temminck's Larks, Red-rumped Wheatear, Cream-coloured Courser and Trumpeter Finch. Burrows in the steppe are home to abundant Fat Sand Rat. o/n Soleil Bleu.

Day 7 Mon 23rd After the travelling day yesterday, we will spend the day locally, travelling up the Dades Gorge, where birds might include Tristram's Warbler, Golden Eagle and Rock Bunting. We may return to the Tagdilt Track, depending on our success yesterday, or relax during the afternoon. o/n Soleil Bleu.

Day 8 Tue 24th This morning we continue our journey eastwards. Along the way we will check cliff faces for a chance to find Pharoah Eagle Owl at its roost site. Nearby we hope to find Maghreb Wheatear. Further eastwards, depending on time available, we may look for Saharan Scrub Warbler before finally arriving in the desert proper of the Tafilalt, at Merzouga. o/n Auberge Derkaoua

Days 9/10 Wed 25th/Thu 26th We spend two days exploring the Tafilalt, taking a four-wheel drive 'safari' one day in search of some of the special birds of the desert: Egyptian Nightjar, Houbara Bustard and Desert Sparrow, as well as Spotted Sandgrouse, Bar-tailed Desert Lark and African Desert Warbler. We will visit the sand dunes of the Erg Chebbi and explore the oasis gardens in search of migrant birds. We may also visit traditional Gnawa musicians and learn about their interesting history. o/n Auberge Derkaoua

Day 11 Fri 27th Today we head back to Ouarzazate through the Anti Atlas mountains, with one or two stops along the way amongst the stunning scenery. o/n Dar Amouddou

Day 12 Sat 28th Up until now we have been south of the High Atlas: today we cross the mountains, via the Tiz n Tichka pass at an altitude of 2,260 metres. From these heady heights we drop back down into the plains near Marrakech, before climbing again up towards the ski resort of Oukaïmeden. o/n Chez Juju

Day 13 Sun 29th An early start takes us in search of one of the stars of the mountains; African Crimson-winged Finches that feed around the base of the Oukaïmeden ski lifts. Atlas Horned Lark and both Alpine and Red-billed Chough should also be found, and we may be lucky and find an early returning Seebohm's Wheatear. Nearby we will look for Levallant's Woodpecker. After lunch, we head down to Marrakech for our flights home.

Accommodation, meals and transport

Our hotels and guesthouses will have en-suite accommodation: dinner and breakfast will be taken in the hotels, with lunches a mixture of picnics and 'sit down' meals in hotels and local restaurants. We will travel by minibus. Our excursions in Sous Massa National Park and into the desert beyond Merzouga will be by comfortable four-wheel drive vehicles.

Health and fitness

Please see the General Information leaflet for health and fitness requirements. This is not a strenuous holiday. The main fitness consideration is likely to be long distances travelled by bus. There will be some walking, including on sand dunes/sandy beaches, and on rocky/uneven tracks, sometimes gently uphill. We will adapt our walking to the weather but we will no doubt be walking in the sun on some days, albeit not for very long walks. The hotel rooms may be on the first or second floor, with no lift available.

Leaders

Mike Russell is a Director of Wildlife Travel who has led many birdwatching and wildlife holidays for Wildlife Travel since 2001 including Costa Rica, the Danube Delta, Spain and this trip in 2018. Mike will be joined by Laurie Jackson an experienced Wildlife Travel leader. This will be her fifth trip to Morocco. Our driver and local guide is Mohammed Belfakir, who has helped us with all our recent trips to Morocco. Our leaders will ensure you enjoy all aspects of the wildlife we encounter.

Weather

In March, the weather is usually sunny but not too hot. If we get hot weather we will adapt the itinerary as much as possible. There may be cooler weather, particularly in the mountains.

Flights

Group flights are with Easyjet from Gatwick to Agadir, returning from Marrakech. Flight times for 2020 aren't yet confirmed, but are likely to be similar to the following:

17th March depart London Gatwick 07.10, arrive Agadir 12.05

29th March depart Marrakech 21.00, arrive Gatwick 23.40

Morocco local time is the same as in the UK.

Passport and visas

If you hold a British passport, you do not need a visa to travel to Morocco. If you do not have a UK passport, please check with your local consulate. Your passport will need to be valid for at least six months after your entry into Morocco.
