Lesvos 2023

Carpets of flowers, olive groves and birding on the beautiful island of Lesvos in the Aegean Sea.

Lesvos is still an undiscovered island for many, despite being the third largest in Greece and close to the Turkish mainland. It is relatively undeveloped and retains its rural culture, interspersed with a few attractive towns and villages. In April, the tourist season is only just beginning and there is a pleasant, relaxed atmosphere at a time when the flowers and birds are at their best.

The countryside is covered in a colourful display of shrubs, perennials and annuals and the birdsong adds a delightful background to quiet walks through olive groves, meadows and woods or along the coast. Our search for the island's wildlife will take us to some interesting landscapes and historical sites.

The island is justifiably famous for its birdlife, with local breeding specialities including Krüper's Nuthatch, Cinereous Bunting and Masked Shrike. We have timed this holiday to catch the best of the northwards spring migration, as well as the wonderful carpets of spring flowers.

During the week we will be visiting many parts of the island - the rolling hills, pastures and rocky landscapes of the west, and the sweet chestnut and pine woods of the southern mountains. We will explore the rivers, lagoons and reedbeds around Skala Kalloni, and the coastal 'shrublands' full of orchids and birdsong.

Our first hotel is within walking distance of the Kalloni wetlands, which contain the prime birding spots on the island, while our second hotel is right on the harbour in the scenic town of Molyvos, on the north coast. They both provide a great base from which to explore the island.

ITINERARY

Please note that the itinerary may be changed to suit the weather or other practicalities or at the discretion of the leaders.

Day 1 Sunday 27th April. Our flights take us to Mytilene, the main town on Lesbos, from where we transfer to Skala Kalloni (c 1.5 hours). o/n Skala Kalloni

Day 2 Monday 28th April . Today will be spent exploring the countryside around Skala Kalloni. Walking out from the hotel, we amble through the lanes and fields, where we will familiarise ourselves with the local wild flowers of the pathsides, waterways and marshes.

Eastern Olivaceous Warblers sing from the tamarisk bushes, newly-arrived Bee-eaters hawk over head, Little Bittern and Squacco Heron feed along the river margins, and all sorts of migrant birds might turn up as they head north. o/n Skala Kalloni

Day 3 Tuesday 29th April. This morning, we will drive a little inland to Metochi Lake where we will look for Balkan Terrapin and various dragonflies, and take a wander through the olive groves, checking for the lovely Iris orientalis and the Hairy Birthwort Aristolochia hirta, while keeping our eyes out for Masked Shrike that nests in the older trees.

After lunch, we will visit the Kalloni salt pans, where Greater Flamingos feed alongside elegant Avocets and Black-winged Stilts, and (depending on the season) a variety of migrating waders and wildfowl, gulls and terns. o/n Skala Kalloni

Day 4 Wednesday 30th April. Today we travel around to the eastern side of the Gulf, where we will visit the pine woodlands at Achladeri, home to Krüper's Nuthatch, a local speciality for which Lesbos is the only European outpost. From here we head up, through the town of Agiassos and onto the slopes of Mount Olympus. Here we will visit the beautiful sweet chestnut woods and limestone hillsides looking for many flowers including Fritillaria pontica and bright splashes of colour in the form of Paeonia macula, Tulipa hageri and the beautiful Peacock Anemone Anemone pavonina. We will look for several species of orchids, including Sword-leaved Helleborine Cephalanthera longifolia, Toothed Orchids Neotinea tridentata and Holmboe's Butterfly Orchid Platanthera holmboei. o/n Skala Kalloni

Day 5 Thursday 1st May. This morning we bid farewell to Skala Kalloni, and head across to the north of the island, stopping along the way to explore the picturesque chapels and wild olive groves of Moni Limonos, looking for Sombre Tit amongst the olive trees.

From here we will travel on to the attractive fishing village of Molyvos, where we will settle in to our hotel overlooking the fishing harbour, and have some time to explore the narrow lanes of this scenic old town. o/n Molyvos

Day 6 Friday 2nd May. Today we set off west, to explore the dryer habitats and volcanic landscape. We will visit the hillsides below Ipsilou Monastery, famous for another local speciality, Cinereous Bunting, which sings from the oak trees. Isabelline Wheatears and Rock Nuthatch feed on the rocky slopes, with the lovely pink Crepis rubra, Euphorbia rigida and Large Venus's Looking-glass Legousia pentagonia amongst the floral highlights. Near the coastal village of Sigri, we will visit the amazing Petrified Forest Geopark, where Cretzschmar's Buntings sing from among the fossilised trees and Holy Orchids flower at the trackside. o/n Molyvos

Day 7 Saturday 3rd May. Today we head a little way inland, for a gentle walk through the scenic village of Petri and out to explore the quiet lanes and hillside beyond the village. o/n Molyvos

Day 8 Sunday 4th May. After one last hearty breakfast it is time to bid farewell to Molyvos and make the return journey back to Mytilene and our flights home.

Accommodation and meals, transport and weather

We will be staying for the first four nights in the Malemi Hotel: a family-run hotel, surrounded by gardens and only a few minutes walk from the wetlands of Skala Kalloni (handy for those pre-breakfast bird walks). From there, we move to the lovely Sea Horse Hotel, situated at the quayside of the small fishing harbour of Molyvos. All rooms are en-suite. All meals are included in the holiday price (dinner day 1 to lunch day 8). Evening meals will be taken at the hotel and we will take picnic lunches.

We will travel by small coach or minibus.

At this time of year the weather is usually sunny but not too hot. There may be some cooler weather and some rain. We will adapt our excursions accordingly.

Health and fitness

On most days, we are walking for much of the day, albeit at a relatively slow pace. In Molyvos, we may have to walk from the hotel to the bus each morning/evening, a distance of around 1km along the sea front. The longest walk (Day 2) will be around 8km, on the flat. On other days it is necessary to walk on rougher ground and up/down some slopes, although none of the walking is particularly strenuous. Good (light) walking boots are recommended. All excursions are optional.
